

From: Mark Byram
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/6/01 7:19pm
Subject: why hurt Apple?

Making MS give away PCs and Software will only further crush it's competition by training a new generation of customers to depend on MS tools. This would injure Apple's only remaining stronghold: Education (both Apple hardware and Software which is not PC compatible).

It would be better to force MS to pay a cash settlement and have the government use the money to fund various educational programs! This way MS is not influencing and increasing its already out of control Monopoly.

Thanks,
-mark